

INTER-OFFICE COMMUNICATION

November 16, 19 29.

To Mr. C. Gardner Sullivan

From Mrs. Reeve

Perhaps you have noticed that Metro are announcing a big out-door special entitled "Montana". I call this to your attention because it does seem as if all the companies realize that "Western Specials" are destined to be sure-fire for the box office. The "Virginian" is a fair example.

May I emphasize the fact that both "Cattle" and "His Royal Nibs" would make big out-door pictures. It may be that "Cattle" is a bit sombre and tragic but it has an almighty drama nevertheless. "His Royal "Nibs" has everything that "Cattle" lacks in the way of humor, romance and love interest. "His Royal Nibs" was brought from me by Al Cohn. He sold it to a Mr. Cronenweth, a speculator. I believe it can be bought at a quite nominal price. I own the dialogue rights of both these novels. I know that I could do a big adaptation of either of these books. I was eight years on a cattle ranch in Northwestern Canada and was secretary of the largest cattle company in the Northwest - my husband being the president, so I know my subject well in fact I know cattle as few women do.
